Melanie Reyes joined Flowers Davis in September, 2004 and focuses in the areas of oil and gas title law, trademark law, and appellate law. Melanie primarily represents national and international petroleum companies in rendering drilling and division order title opinions. She has further handled numerous oil and gas-related appeals. Melanie also devotes some of her practice to working with small business owners in trademarking their brands.

After graduating in the top 10% of her law school class, Melanie started her legal career working as a Briefing Attorney to the Honorable Justices James Baker and Michael H. Schneider of the Texas Supreme Court. She then worked for the Dallas firm Thompson & Knight LLP, where she practiced in the Litigation department, focusing in the areas of oil and gas, antitrust, appellate, and intellectual property law.

Outside of work, Melanie enjoys music, football, poker, and spending time with family and friends.
