Firm Overview

Based in Tyler, Texas, Flowers Davis PLLC is a multi-disciplinary law firm devoted to providing the highest quality legal services to clients in a prompt and efficient manner. The Firm was founded in 1994 by Senior Partners Celia C. Flowers and Robert S. Davis, and practice areas have developed around their areas of expertise.

Celia Flowers is quadruple-Board Certified by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization in the areas of Oil, Gas and Mineral Law, Real Estate Law, Property Owner Association Law, and Civil Litigation. Only nine out of 103,000+ active attorneys in the State of Texas are Board Certified in four areas of the law, making this a most distinguished accomplishment. Under Celia's guidance, the Firm's oil and gas and real estate practices were established; they range from oil and gas litigation to the preparation of title opinions to curing real estate title to document preparation and real estate closings.

Robert Davis leads the defense of public entities and insurance defense sections of the Firm, where Flowers Davis attorneys represent cities, counties and law enforcement organizations, as well as handle insurance litigation cases.

Both Senior Partners are involved in business and commercial litigation matters. Attorneys within the Firm represent almost 20 different practice areas, and many have backgrounds in industry or public service, giving them practical, working knowledge of the issues their clients face. This uniquely positions Flowers Davis as a one-stop legal shop for many individuals and entities.

For Lenders

Flowers Davis PLLC is a full-service multi-disciplinary law firm uniquely qualified to help banks and private lenders navigate the regulatory, transactional and litigation issues they face in the banking and business arenas. We offer professional services tailored specifically to financial institutions as well as services that benefit both lenders and lender clients.

Lending Transactions

Our banking professionals understand that lending transactions aren't run-of-the-mill business deals. We advise on and prepare documents for commercial and residential lending transactions including Deeds, Deeds of Trust and other closing documents, releases of liens, modification agreements, loan participation agreements, collateral substitution agreements and commercial loan agreements. We offer real estate closings and servicing activities for local and out-of-area lending institutions. Our attorneys also provide analysis of title defects and title curative services.

Operations & Compliance

In the current regulatory environment, banks have no choice but to make compliance a priority. Flowers Davis attorneys advise financial institutions on regulatory compliance in areas such as TILA/RESPA Integrated Disclosures (TRID), offer creative strategies in loan structuring, assist in writing loan policies and procedures, and advise on inter-creditor and subordination issues. We are experienced in counseling lenders on how to avoid liability actions, and on defending lender liability actions.

Collections

The Flowers Davis team of bankruptcy and restructuring professionals regularly represents debtors, secured and unsecured creditors, landlords and trustees in all aspects of bankruptcy, sequestration, foreclosure and repossession. We represent creditor's rights in bankruptcy cases, obtain and execute writs of sequestration, file forcible entry and detainer suits to assist lenders in gaining possession of property, and repossess personal property.

CIVIL TRIAL LAW
OIL, GAS AND MINERAL LAW
PROPERTY OWNERS ASSOCIATION LAW
RESIDENTIAL REAL ESTATE LAW

Celia C. Flowers is a Senior Partner in Flowers Davis PLLC and oversees the Oil & Gas, Real Estate and Civil Litigation Sections. Celia is quadruple-Board Certified by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization in the areas of Oil & Gas Law, Residential Real Estate Law, Property Owners Association Law and Civil Trial Law. Board Certification is the highest, most public commitment to excellence in specific areas of the law. As of July 2019, 0.0086% of all active Texas attorneys are certified in four separate areas (nine out of 103,342), making this a most distinguished accomplishment.

Celia's practice is focused on oil and gas matters, business and commercial litigation and real estate. She prepares title opinions, settles or litigates surface damage disputes, conducts receivership proceedings and pipeline condemnation proceedings, and litigates contracts. In addition to her law practice, Ms. Flowers owns East Texas Title Companies, licensed in over eighty Texas Counties. Prior to attending law school, Ms. Flowers was a petroleum landman for approximately ten years.

The depth of Ms. Flowers' expertise in the oil and gas, real estate and title insurance fields, along with her experience as a small business owner makes her uniquely qualified to advocate for her clients, her industries and her community. Her clients appreciate her deep understanding of the intertwining and complex issues that are often present in a single case.

Celia's industries have honored her many times with board memberships, leadership positions, and invitations to speak out on national or statewide issues before the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, and Texas Department of Insurance, among others. Since 2011, she has served on the Texas Title Examination Standards Board, which formulates, develops, comments on and amends title examination standards for the Real Estate, Probate and Trust Law Section (REPTL) and for the Oil, Gas and Energy Resources Law Section of the State Bar of Texas. In addition, Celia's clients and peers have ranked her at the highest level of professional excellence (5.0 out of 5.0 in each area of evaluation), earning her an AV Preeminent® rating by Martindale Hubbell since 2014. Thomson Reuters has named her a Texas Super Lawyer since 2020. Celia is a Fellow in the College of the State Bar of Texas, an honorary society of lawyers who are among the best trained attorneys in Texas, having completed at least double the Continuing Legal Education (CLE) required by the State Bar of Texas. She is a member of the American Board of Trial Advocates (ABOTA), an invitation-only organization dedicated to the preservation and promotion of the civil jury trial right provided by the Seventh Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

Celia regularly provides CLE training to Texas attorneys and MCE courses for East Texas Realtors. She is a frequent speaker to Landmen and Lenders throughout the area, keeping them abreast of legislative, real estate and mineral issues.

Rob Knight started his legal career in 2007 by opening a law firm in Houston, Texas, where he practiced in the areas of family, criminal, real estate and probate law. He relocated to Tyler, Texas, to focus his work on Oil and Gas Title Opinions. At Flowers Davis, he practices in the areas of oil and gas title opinions and real estate law. Rob has prepared title opinions in multiple states, from simple title opinions to complex division order, unit-wide opinions and leasehold opinions. He also renders title opinions and consults on title issues in anticipation of both residential and commercial loans, and for municipal condemnation proceedings. Additionally, he oversees a team of attorneys who review real property title for over 1,500 real estate properties a month for title companies prior to issuing title insurance policies. He has worked in several areas of the law that overlap real property law, including probate and family law, and has a thorough understanding of all instruments within a chain of title, and what is required to cure title defects.

Rob typically works for large multi-national oil and gas companies, as well as mid-sized and small local oil and gas companies, as well as individuals who own oil, gas and mineral interests. In addition, Rob assists individuals with estate planning, drafting wills and trusts, POAs, advanced directives and Transfer on Death Deeds. In early 2019, Rob was named Managing Partner over the Oil and Gas Litigation, Appellate and Transactional Sections of the Firm

Rob enjoys working in real property law and reviewing land title. Whether he is preparing title opinions or aiding the issuance of loans and title policies, he understands the importance of providing his services in a quick and efficient manner, and in delivering a quality product.

Outside of work Rob enjoys playing guitar, painting, mountain biking, yoga, preparing for and competing in obstacle course races.

Shannon Barber joined Flowers Davis as a civil litigator in the summer of 2023. Her practice areas include business and commercial litigation, eminent domain/condemnation, oil and gas litigation and real estate litigation.

Immediately prior to joining the firm, Shannon was a Felony Prosecutor for the Dallas County District Attorney's Office. In that position, she managed a criminal docket of over 400 cases, including murder, domestic violence and assault. She disposed of hundreds of cases through pleas and completed over 30 jury trials. Her workload included weekly preparation for contested hearings, bond hearings, pre-trial hearings and trial. She had daily correspondence with victims and daily negotiations with defense attorneys, while also meeting with various law enforcement agencies, state, agencies and community organizations. Before being promoted to Felony Prosecutor, she served as the Misdemeanor Court Chief, where she supervised and managed two other attorneys and oversaw the docket and organization of the entire court.

Prior to joining the Dallas District Attorney's Office, Shannon was a Project Attorney for Level 2 Legal in Dallas, where she provided document review services for compliance according to client regulations.

Tyler, TX 75701

phb@flowersdavis.com

Paul Brown has been with Flowers Davis since November 2020 and practices in the areas of oil and gas title opinions, real estate law, and estate planning.

Paul has a strong background in the oil and gas industry as well as land title and real estate. He has rendered drilling, division order and acquisition title opinions across East Texas, South Texas, the Permian Basin, Ohio, New Mexico and North Dakota. This gave him a holistic view of the oil and gas industry and the ability to practice across multiple jurisdictions. In addition to rendering title opinions, Paul is well-versed in drafting joint operating agreements, farmout agreements, pooling and unitization agreements, lease addenda, mineral reservations, and assignments. He has represented oil and gas companies in connection with acquisition and divestiture of assets and has also drafted lien documents for a bankruptcy filing for an oil and gas operator.

Paul is also familiar with Texas Railroad Commission regulations and other oil-and-gas-play-specific drilling permit requirements. He has researched producing well information, HBP acreage, and proration units. In addition, he has taught Introduction to Texas Oil and Gas Law to landmen and other industry professionals at Kilgore College on a quarterly basis.

Real estate law often intersects oil and gas law and business law. Paul has drafted promissory notes, mortgages and deeds of trust for residential real estate closings, as well as UCC documents, employment dissolution agreements and demand letters.

In his spare time, Paul is a travel enthusiast and is an avid hiker of America's National Parks.

Michael Carney is an associate at the firm's Tyler office. While he has broad legal experience, his practice primarily focuses on estate planning and real estate law. Michael advises clients in estate planning, probate proceedings, tutorships, and guardianships, counseling them on how to develop and implement comprehensive estate plans. One of Michael's areas of particular interest is estate planning for families with children with special needs. As the father of a child with special needs, Michael brings unique insight to this area of his practice.

Real estate law is a natural focus for Michael, as estate planning attorneys need to be familiar with state-specific estate planning laws, probate laws, federal and state tax laws, property laws, and asset protection laws. Michael works closely with lenders, title companies, individuals and entities to ensure real estate transactions are handled in a professional and timely manner. He also facilitates business entity formation and practices corporate transactional law. Michael is licensed to practice in Louisiana and Texas.

Michael brings strong analytical and research skills to the firm, having worked as an analyst for the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (PCAOB), a nonprofit corporation established by Congress to oversee the audits of public companies. At PCAOB, he drafted interpretive guidance regarding Board rules, prepared recommendations for Board action, and worked with registered firms to resolve issues of non-compliance. Also in Washington, DC, he served as the law clerk to the Hon. John H. Bayly of the District of Columbia Superior Court where he worked closely with the judge on a fast-paced criminal docket of approximately 400 cases, conducting legal research and drafting orders. During law school he worked as a legal intern for a United States Senator, preparing briefing materials for the nomination of Chief Justice John Roberts; he also served as research assistant for the United States Chamber of Commerce Commission on the Capital Markets.

Outside of work, Michael enjoys spending time with his wife and children and experiencing the great outdoors. Michael and his wife Genevieve have four children.

To qualify as a Patent Prosecutor, an attorney must meet legal, scientific and technical qualifications and demonstrate a good moral character and reputation. In addition to earning a technical science degree and a law degree, they must apply for registration with the USPTO and pass a separate bar examination. Fewer than 1% of the attorneys in Smith County have met these requirements.

As a Patent Prosecutor, Catherine can represent inventors and entrepreneurs in protecting intellectual property such as inventions, design or processes. She researches patentability, prepares and files patent applications, negotiates with and responds to the USPTO, and files appeals. She can also help business clients develop patent protection development plans and comprehensive design patents, including trademarks and copyrights.

Catherine is a Fellow in the College of the State Bar of Texas, an honorary society of lawyers who are among the best trained attorneys in Texas, having completed at least double the Continuing Legal Education (CLE) required by the State Bar of Texas. She also practices in the areas of Real Estate Transactions, Acquisitions & Development, Document Preparation and Curative. She has represented clients in the acquisition and divestiture of assets including drafting assignments, purchase and sale agreements, right-of-way agreements, easements, boundary line agreements, affidavits of heirship, numerous real estate and commercial loan documents in addition to closing documents. Catherine has drafted and reviewed purchase and sale agreements for residential and commercial transactions. Catherine understands the complicated curative issues involved in real estate transactions.

Prior to passing the bar, Catherine worked as an Independent Petroleum Landman for Flowers Davis running title, preparing runsheets and completing ownership reports. Before attending law school and after earning her Masters in Business Administration, Catherine worked for several years as a Pharmaceutical Sales Specialist exceeding her sales targets for the sale of antidepressant and hormone therapy products, and insulin products, respectively. Catherine's experience and education in the pharmaceutical, medical, and oil and gas fields brings a business person's perspective to her legal work.

Outside of work, Catherine enjoys CrossFit, running, water sports, traveling, spending time with her husband Sam and their daughter, Mary Blake, and their large group of friends and family. The Goodgions attend Green Acres Baptist Church.

Melanie Reyes-Rawls joined Flowers Davis in September 2004, and currently focuses in the areas of property law including oil and gas title opinions, expert oil and gas consulting and real estate transactions. She is Board Certified by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization* in Oil, Gas and Mineral Law and is licensed to practice law in both Texas and New Mexico. Melanie primarily represents national and international petroleum companies in rendering drilling and division order title opinions.

In addition, Melanie assists individuals with estate planning, such as drafting wills and trusts, powers of attorney, advanced directives and Transfer on Death Deeds. She has further handled numerous real property-related appeals, litigation matters, and eminent domain proceedings.

After graduating in the top 10% of her law school class, Melanie started her legal career working as a Briefing Attorney to the Honorable Justices James Baker and Michael H. Schneider of the Texas Supreme Court. She then worked for the Dallas firm Thompson & Knight LLP, where she practiced in the Litigation department, focusing in the areas of oil and gas, antitrust, appellate, and intellectual property law.

Outside of work, Melanie enjoys music, cooking, gardening, deep-sea fishing, yoga, and spending time with family and friends.

*The Board Certification process is rigorous and thorough with stringent, ongoing requirements after initial certification. As of July 2019, fewer than 7% of all Texas attorneys are Board Certified in any area of the law.

Laci Stovall has practiced in a variety of areas of the law, with an emphasis at Flowers Davis on business transactions, real estate litigation and oil and gas litigation. A licensed attorney since 2020, Laci's interest in the legal field dates back to 2010 when she worked as a runner for a Tyler law firm. She gained beneficial business law and litigation insights while interning for another local firm in 2016. As a Student Attorney for the University of Mississippi Transactional Law Clinic, she assisted low-income rural Mississippi residents in creating LLCs. Before joining Flowers Davis in 2022, Laci practiced in the areas of in business transactional law, property/real estate law, oil and gas law, and estate planning in the Tyler area. She has three years of experience in the oil and gas industry.

Laci completed her Bachelor of Arts degree in history at Texas A&M University, received her Master of Arts degree in communication studies with emphasis on rhetorical theory at the University of North Texas Toulouse Graduate School, and earned her Juris Doctorate at the University of Mississippi School of Law. As she pursued her education, Laci was active in university and community associations and societies, with a focus on philanthropy and community outreach.

Laci hails from the small East Texas town of Troup, Texas. When she is not hard at work, she spends her time soaking up the many smiles and giggles of her spitfire toddler, Thea Rene', more affectionately referred to as "lil miss" and "the next R.B.G.". Laci is a fulltime single mom with a passion for creating a more equitable and inclusive world and becoming the best role model possible for Thea.

Since 2009, Ginger Young has worked as an immigration lawyer at Flowers Davis, PLLC. She primarily focuses her time and efforts on family-based cases, permanent residency cases, and naturalization cases. Ginger is an active member of AILA (American Immigration Lawyers Association). This organization is comprised of highly accomplished immigration attorneys who work hard to stay up-to-date on the latest advancements in the field of immigration law.

She is committed to helping vulnerable clients who need effective legal representation. During her time in law school, Ginger was an intern for the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Later, she worked for Fanning, Harper & Martinson in Dallas. Upon graduation, she continued working at the latter firm, mainly representing school districts and governmental entities in civil rights and employment litigation.

Ginger continued her work in the employment and labor defense practice at Thompson & Knight in Houston. She moved to Tyler after marrying her husband, Bob, and she began working at Flowers Davis, PLLC in 2000. During her first nine years at our firm, she concentrated on civil rights and employment litigation, mainly defending governmental and law enforcement agencies. In 2009, she changed her focus to immigration law because she found her passion in helping clients who wanted to create a better life for themselves and their families. Ginger has enjoyed immense success in this practice area and has helped countless clients over the years.

Ginger is fluent in Spanish.
